

A simple plan

Work where the agency is

Own the phone, govern your hybrid reality

- 17 Directives, Regulations (Chip, AI, Cyber...) will not get agency and autonomy in Europe back.
- You need to own the hardware and infrastructure.
- The key is the mobile phone. Make the upcoming eID Wallet a phone. Add all features (messaging, social media, search)
- Issue it in a federated way (could be still in countries)
- The phone – edge – becomes the cloud. Europe creates its own app store. All innovation takes place in this paradigm.
- A simple Steve Jobs just now making us all small shareholders.

The terrain in which we work: Emperor's Clothes

The Netherlands has

- ❖ No more money (euro)
- ❖ No more law (BXL)
- ❖ No more instruments:
connectivity, energy,
communication, transport..
privatized

The political system

- ❖ Has moved from parties
based on ideology to parties
based on personalities
- ❖ They will all fail in making things 'better' because they have no more agency over
real material conditions

The cost of not doing this

Emperor's Clothes situation stays hidden in transition

- Stability of the system
- Strong hegemonic approval
- Abundance of resources
- Innovation stays inside the model
- Explainable/Certified AI

Emperor's Clothes situation become apparent to all:

- Next political movement will not be a party but will stay local, building own resources
- Fundamentally insecure, instable, and as a consequence can not be sustained.

We make agency here

We make meaning here
